

 Announcement of engagements must be handed personally to the society editor of The Herald by one of the parties interested, or else they will not be printed.

MOST of the events of the past week have been of an informal nature, small teas, luncheons, an informal musicale or two, and a few of the ever-recurring card parties making the entire round of gayeties. A slight increase in the number of matrimonial affairs has been noted, but as a rule Cupid has been rustier in the cool places and reserving his ammunition for the bright days of the autumn.

Life at the Country club has not been suspended by any means, although the regular social programme has been put aside till the 20th of the month, when the fall season will be opened with a hop in the evening, at which Mrs. Louise Smedley Smith and the Misses Burke, Geddes and McCormick will be the hostesses.

While the general exodus to the resorts continues, there are many who are already returning from their summer outing and making preparations for the early autumn entertaining. The coming week will doubtless be well filled with the various entertainments for the visitors in the city, but there will be little doing in the society world proper till the beginning of September.

Coming Events.

Miss Addie Zane entertains at a tea this evening from 7 till 9 o'clock in honor of Miss Katherine Dillingham of Denver.

Musicales.

Miss Edna Bailey entertained a number of her friends at a delightful musical Monday evening, in honor of her friend and classmate, Mrs. Smulski of Chicago. Miss Agatha Berkhoel assisted in the programme, and after a delightful recital, refreshments were served and a pleasant social time spent.

The musicale given Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. A. Nelden was one of the pleasant affairs of the week. The vocalists of the evening were Mrs. Smulski, Miss Berkhoel and Mr. Copley, and each number was a delight to the appreciative audience. Mrs. Osborne, besides showing her exceptional ability as an accompanist, rendered some fine instrumental selections, and the numbers by Mr. Woodmansee and Mr. Schettler were charming.

Mrs. Ferdinand Dickert entertained at a pleasant though informal musicale last evening, in honor of Mrs. Smulski of Chicago. A number of local musicians assisted in the fine programme which was rendered.

At Luncheon.

Miss Blanche Burke was the hostess at a charmingly arranged luncheon at the Country club Wednesday, given in honor of Miss Katherine Dillingham of Denver. The table was spread in the large dining room, and artistic decorations of sweet peas were used. The guests of the day, besides the guest of honor, were Mrs. Louise Smedley Smith, and Misses Sherman, Laura Sherman, Lockhart of Colorado Springs, Dooly and Geddes.

Five O'clock Tea.

Mrs. S. Lincoln Boggs was the hostess Friday at a charmingly appointed 5 o'clock tea given in honor of her sister, Miss Olive Munroe, who is her guest for the summer. The affair was the first of a series, and while thoroughly informal was none the less most delightful. The cheerful rooms were decorated entirely in red, and the same color scheme was carried out in the table accessories. Mrs. Boggs was assisted by the Misses Hale, Paul, McMillan, Howat and Thorne. About seventy-five guests were invited.

High Tea.

The largest and most elaborate event of the past week was the high tea on Thursday evening, at which Miss Jacobs and Miss Geddes were the hostesses. The affair took place at the home of Miss Jacobs on South Main street, and was in every way a most delightful entertainment. The tables, of which there were ten, were decorated with pink and white sweet peas, and dainty pen and ink sketches were used for place cards. Nearly fifty guests were present.

Afternoon Party.

The Misses Alice and Nellie Herman entertained a few of their friends informally at their home last Tuesday afternoon. The vocalists of the evening were Mrs. Smulski, Miss Berkhoel and Mr. Copley, and each number was a delight to the appreciative audience. Mrs. Osborne, besides showing her exceptional ability as an accompanist, rendered some fine instrumental selections, and the numbers by Mr. Woodmansee and Mr. Schettler were charming.

At Cards.

Mrs. Arthur Burrows entertained at a pleasant affair Thursday afternoon at her home on East Brigham street. The house was prettily decorated with pink sweet peas, and pink was the color shown by the score and tally cards. Sixty-three was the game, the first prize being won by Mrs. L. L. Archer and the second by Mrs. Frank Knox. About forty guests were present, and a delightful afternoon passed.

Morning Party.

Mrs. E. R. Dickenson of Denver was the guest of honor at a delightful card party given Friday morning by Mrs. W. H. Myers. The rooms were very prettily decorated for the affair, the parlors in sweet peas and the dining room in glowing nasturtiums. Mrs. Myers was assisted by Mrs. E. L. Carpenter. The game of the morning was sixty-three, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. G. B. Pfoutz and Mrs. C. Ira Tuttle. About forty guests were invited.

Birthday Party.

Mr. W. H. Tibbals, Jr., was the host of a very pleasant evening party Friday given on the occasion of his sixteenth birthday. A number of interesting games were played, including ping pong, anagrams, crokinole, carom and sixty-three. Prizes were awarded to Miss Elinore Stewart and Mr. Reeder Eastman. After the refreshments were served dancing was enjoyed on the lawn, which was brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns and incandescent lights. The guests of the evening were the Misses Frances Graham, Lesley Woodruff, Elinore Stewart, Clara Sowles, Sayda Bothwell, Mamie Needham, Mary Cannon, Lillian Cannon and Elsie Ridge, and Messrs. Bruce Grant, Jamie Carpenter, Reeder Eastman, Charles Davis, Ray Needham, E. J. Waugh, Edgar Earls and Vern Earls.

Circus Party.

Miss Katherine Geddes entertained a merry party at the circus Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Dillingham of Denver. All the accessories of a real circus time were supplied, and a jolly evening was passed. Those who enjoyed the affair were the Misses Dillingham, Zane, Jacobs and Geddes, and Messrs.
